

Golden Globe's $62,000 Gift Box, a Handbag by Charlie Lapson

It's the handbag seen around Hollywood and on the arms of the "Desperate Housewives." The $62,000 leather handbag created by Charlie Lapson was one of the gift box of items offered to presenters at the Golden Globes. Lapson's handbags, jewelry and clothing designs have an A-list following and have been seen on the red carpet at the Oscars, the Emmys and previous Golden Globe awards ceremonies, worn by Felicity Huffman, Eva Longoria, Teri Hatcher, Marcia Cross and Nicolette Sheridan. Lapson is a native of New York, calling Hollywood, New York and Miami home.

